The Democratic Platform.

The platform adopted at the Democratic Convention on Thursday evening affords another happy illustration of the "immutability of Democratic principles." As a like platform was never known before, so we venture to predict that another such an one will never again be seen. The startling impudence of the Democratic party of Oregon in framing such a platform just misses the sublime. Though we are told that "the principles of that party are eternal," we now find it ignoring in its own platform nearly ever distinctive feature of its old political faith. What has become of the resolutions of '98 and '99, which two years ago were thought worthy not only to hold the first place in the creed of the party, but were even considered indispensable in its platform? Until now, these resolutions have been considered the corner-stone of the Democratic temple, the same as A. H. Stephens regarded slavery as the corner-stone of the rebellious Confederacy. Heretofore they have been the infallible test by which Democratic orthodoxy have been tried and proved. But not a word does "the party of unchanging principles" say about them now. The Democracy do not "renew their faith in them" as of old. We appeal to Democrats to know whether they mean to utterly abandon "the great principles taught by Thomas Jefferson," and put into practical operation by Jefferson Davis? Is your old dogma of State rights to go along with slavery, "glimmering through the dream of things that were?" For ten years you have told us that Democracy was nothing without the resolutions of '98; that these resolutions were the touchstone of your political faith; that they were the be-all and the end-all of Democracy. Yet now you drop them. Do you not perceive that by your own showing you are left without a single important principle to stand on?

But what does the new platform consist of? When we get to the end of the first resolution we are ready to declare it the strangest utterance that ever emanated from an Oregon Democratic Convention. The utter and glaring inconsistency between the doctrines of the resolution and the former declarations and present practices of the party, immediately arrests attention, and fortifies the mind against the artifice and deception of the whole platform. "Equal and exact justice to all men," says the first resolution. This is a pretty doctrine, and makes a fine promise to the ear; but the very next resolution breaks this promise to the hope. "Resolved," says the second resolution, "that we unreservedly approve the President's veto of the civil right's bill"—a bill whose object was to do "equal and exact justice to all men." As well reject the principles of the Declaration of Independence as to pronounce against the civil rights bill. But what further? "The support of the State Governments in all their rights, and of the Federal Government in all its vigor." Two things are noticeable in this declaration; first, the Democracy say they will support the State Governments before they will support the Government of the Union; and second, they tell us what they never told us during the rebellion, that the Federal Government is to be maintained in all its vigor. The Chicago platform resolved in 1864 that the efforts which had been made to maintain the Federal Government in all its vigor had failed, that a cessation of hostilities must be had, and vigorous efforts abandoned. Just now, however, when the rebellion is over, there is less need for vigorous efforts than there was then, the Democracy can pledge their vigorous support to the Government. Now that the rebellion is put down, they [illegible] the [illegible] of Gods bill [illegible] attacking young [illegible] on finding [illegible]. The third resolution demands the immediate admission of the Southern Representatives, rebels and all, into Congress. The Oregon Democracy might have saved themselves the trouble of putting this into their platform. We all know that it is their hope and desire to see the Confederate Government and all the Confederate Congress, they would like as the next best thing to force them into the national Congress at Washington. The Oregon Democracy entertain the same sentiments on this subject as are held by their party brethren in Kentucky—a Democratic State whose Legislature wants Breckinridge, that darkest of all traitors, pardoned so that he may be returned to the Senate of the United States.

The fourth resolution says that the Democracy do not want to repudiate the public debt, and that they are not in favor of nullification and secession. The State Rights Democrat, the leading organ of the party in this State, says that the debt was unjustly and corruptly contracted, and that if the people (meaning the Democratic party) had the management of the matter, the debt would be rubbed out in thirty days. This declaration accords precisely with the views and intentions of a majority of the party. We do not expect them to go into a canvass advocating the repudiation of the public debt, (for that would be somewhat unpopular,) but we do challenge anybody to point to a leading Democrat of Oregon who, until now, has declared that the debt should be paid. As to their being in favor of nullification and secession, we may remark that as this is somewhat unpopular too, they have [illegible] safe to keep it out of their present platform, though they had always before trusted it. Of course their opinions on this subject have undergone no change; they have omitted the resolutions of '98 simply because it would have been impolitic to have endorsed them.

They next resolve that "this is a white man's Government." Here they are not with President Johnson, but they are with John Wilkes Booth who wrote: "This country was formed solely for the white man."

The sixth resolution pronounces for the taxation of the securities of the Government. We have often shown that the Supreme Court has held that these bonds are not taxable. When the Dred Scott decisions could be evoked from the Supreme Court for partisan purposes, Democracy had a high respect for that tribunal; but they do not regard it as authority except in those decisions by which it undertook to fix the status of the negro.

We shall consider other points in the Democratic platform in due time.

The Metropolitan Record, an Irish rebel paper of New York, thus glorifies the name of Pat. Cleburne, a brother Irish rebel, who, thanks to the good fortune of the country which had adopted him, but which he, an ingrate, tried to destroy, lost his traitorous life at the battle of Franklin in Tennessee:

The name of Patrick Cleburne, Lieutenant General in the Confederate army, is one which should not be forgotten in the military annals of our race. He fought in a "good cause and in gallant company." He was the hero of over thirty pitched battles, and the number of minor actions in which he participated is beyond precedent. He was distinguished for decision and intrepidity, and almost every movement committed to his division was successful.

Mr. B. D. Fondray has been appointed Postmaster at Phoenix, Jackson county.

A Victory for Human Rights.

Much to the gratification of all the friends of liberty and justice, the Senate of the United States has passed the civil rights bill over the veto of the President. The principles which are written in the Declaration of Independence, or better still, the principles of justice, which God himself has written on the consciences of men, are not dead. We rejoice that there is power enough in the Congress of the people to carry this measure through in spite of the opposition of one who ought to be the friend of human rights, but who, we fear, has forgotten his promises of devotion to freedom. The civil rights bill means nothing more than the enforcement of the free Constitution. To have prevented its final enactment would be as difficult as to establish slavery; and to defend it as easy as to defend the doctrine of freedom to which the nation is now committed. The bill will also undoubtedly pass the House over the veto. The people will sustain Congress unflinchingly in this great struggle for the rights of man. The only principal Union journal in the nation that sustains the President in his veto is the New York Times. Everywhere the Union party unanimously supports Congress in the stand it has taken in relation to this measure. Liberty will yet prevail in spite of the opposition of men high in power. For the achievement we record to-day, the people are grateful to Congress and thankful to God.

Rebel Correspondence

THE "K. G. C.'S" STILL OPERATING—MORE ABOUT THE GREAT "JONES FAMILY"—INTERESTING REVELATIONS.

The following is a true copy of a letter which we have seen. The original was picked up on the street here two or three days since, and is still preserved. The writer of the letter is well known here and throughout the State, as one of the soundest of our Confederate Democrats! We know nothing about the person to whom the epistle is addressed, further than that he is affectionately called "Dear Mac."—whoever that may be:

[illegible], March 19, 1866.

DEAR MAC:—Being a ... "cuss" I have, of course, nothing to do with politics, but I have a suggestion to make that may be of use to us.

I want Chadwick to go to Congress. Of course he is not my style (but you know—but he will sustain Johnson and help us to get back into the Union. I cannot in a short note tell you all the reasons, but I will suggest a few.

1st; He is the most available candidate. He has not been strongly identified with any party, and, therefore, has no enemies. He has not seen Jones. He is not a Good Templar, but keeps himself decently sober.

2d, We cannot elect one of our kind, and the Congressman from Oregon don't ... to a "bill of ..." anyway, and

3d, As a corollary to these propositions, if we can get a Simon pure for Governor, and an available candidate for Congress, we can ... the State, and that we do most sincerely desire.

I suppose that you hold the same position that you always held, and I ... those ... tions in ... Page "won't do;" Fay is too much mixed, and the Southern part of the State ought to have the Congressman once.

These ideas are hastily put together, but you understand the "points" that I am trying to show you.

Thanking you for your kindness, ... while in Portland, I remain your obedient servant,

L. E. MORGAN.

The above letter, though short, makes some very curious and rather startling developments. It shows first, that the Jones family, otherwise called the Knights of the Golden Circle, or the Sons of Liberty, and possibly known also by other names, still maintains an active organization; and second, that the JONESES or secessionists triumphed in the late Democratic State Convention. The letter reveals enough of the inside workings of the Democratic party to show us why Smith was beaten in the race for the congressional nomination, and Fay nominated. Smith was not one of "our kind"—he "had not seen Jones," and therefore though he was every way Fay's superior, he had to give place to the man who though not "available, (i. e, who could not hope to catch any but secession votes,) was nevertheless "a Simon pure."

Warned by the above proofs of the treasonable intentions of the Democracy, Union men everywhere should be on their guard against the secret, insidious efforts of this dark-lantern party. In the letter we have printed above we find statements which will suffice to convince any one that that party is the same treasonable organization that it was during the rebellion; that it is in hostility to the government of the United States; that its aim is to unite with the Southern rebels, get possession of the government and administer it in the interest of those who were foiled in their traitorous attempt to destroy the Union.

Union men of Oregon! in the Democratic party of to-day you still see your old enemies, the abettors and allies of treason. Shall men who were nominated solely because they were such as the above letter says, "one of us"—that is to say, members of the secret organization which was set on foot for the purpose of bringing the horrors of civil war upon the loyal States, and thus enable the rebels to accomplish their object of a separate government—now be permitted to come into power in this loyal State? Let the answer be, NEVER. Crush and bury them under such a majority of loyal votes as will discourage them from all further efforts to make this State an ally with the still disloyal South!

VICTORIA ITEMS.—A telegram was received by Gov. Kennedy from the Home Government, a few days since, ordering the steam yacht Leviathan to start on an hours' notice to Victoria. The yacht was at New Westminster. There are rumors that the dispatches brought by her relates to Fenian movements.

The steamer Diana has been chartered for several weeks to take two San Francisco gentlemen, who represent $2,000,000 capital, on a tour of inspection to the coal and copper mines of Vancouver island and the northwest coast of British Columbia.

The customs receipts for week ending March 24th, were: Duties, $5,181, exports, $51 0-, harbor dues $138 02, head money, $254 14, tonnage dues, $282 08, fees, $1. Total, $5,895 56 Passengers, 262.

GONE ALREADY.—The passage of the Civil Rights Bill over the veto, has destroyed one plank of the Democratic State platform. The second resolution is already shivered into fragments, and the pains taking Democracy have nothing to do but clear away the rubbish and "stand from under." With one prop gone already, the whole structure will soon be toppling down and crashing about their ears.

A NEW COMMAND.—We see it stated that Capt. Thomas, late in command of the steamer Active, has been appointed to another command on the southern coast

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—The Senate has passed the Civil Rights Bill over the President's veto. Ayes 33, Noes, 15

The Peace Proclamation.

CHICAGO, April 5th.—The Evening Post says: The proclamation has been expected for a considerable time, and is in perfect agreement with the views Johnson has often expressed. It would be difficult to controvert the principle he lays down, such as the incongruousness of a system of military occupation with our institutions, the policy of using a persuasive method to strengthen the allegiance of the late rebel States, &c. yet we cannot help feeling anxiety for the peace of the Southern States if the military which now, in many places holds disorder in check, shall be withdrawn, as of course it must be all over the South. Society is like an ocean after a tempest, heaving, boiling and tossing and casting up to the surface the debris of its bed. It is fortunate, therefore, that this proclamation has been issued while the Civil Rights Bill is before the national legislature. The responsibility from which the military power has released itself must now be borne by the civil power. The federal legislature is now called upon to do its part in providing a remedy for that violation of rights of citizenship which will invariably in the present state of the Southern country be perpetrated, and for which loyal courts would be certain to afford no redress. The members of Congress by whose vote it will be either enacted or defeated, cannot now say there is a military force in the States lately in revolt charged with the duty of preserving the peace, and seeing that the rights of the colored race and those who remained faithful to the Union are respected. The people will now look to Congress, and no member who supported the bill at first, can now change his vote without the certainty of an unpleasant meeting with his constituents on returning home.

Congressional.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The proceedings of Congress yesterday were wholly unimportant, except Trumbull's speech.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The Senate galleries were again densely crowded to-day to witness the debate and proceedings on the civil rights bill.

Edmonds, Senator from Vermont, appeared and was qualified.

Johnson, of Maryland, spoke in defense of the President's veto, after which the Senate adjourned.

The House passed a bill giving three months pay proper to all officers who resigned or were mustered out at their own request after the 15th of April, 1865, the war department having construed the law as not covering such cases.

Stevens of Pennsylvania, made a report from the conference committee on the deficiency appropriation bill, which was agreed to. The report, among other things, kills the appropriation for the services and traveling expenses of the Government engineers on the Pacific Railroad.

Ashley, of Ohio, introduced a bill to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph from Salt Lake city to the Colorado river; read twice and referred to the committee on public lands.

Schenck, of Ohio, from the military committee reported the Senate bill granting the right of way to the Cascade Railroad through the military reservation in Washington Territory, with an amendment providing that no more than sixty feet in width shall be occupied at any place where the space between the river and the bluff is narrow. The amendment was agreed to and the bill passed.

Brooks, of New York, addressed the House in defense of his claim to a seat, and will conclude his speech to-morrow.

California and Oregon Railroad.

CHICAGO, April 6th.—In the House on Monday, Bidwell of California asked consent to report the bill granting lands to aid the construction of a railroad to connect California and Oregon. The said bill had been before the House for several months, and it was important and should pass, in order that companies might begin work this season. If delayed another month here, the work would be delayed a whole year.

Julian, of Indiana, objected because the bill revolutionized the whole land policy by making direct grants of the company. The House refused to suspend the rules to allow the bill to be reported.

Senator Johnson in Defense of President Johnson—Proceedings in the Senate.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Senator Johnson, of Maryland, yesterday, after an elaborate legal argument in defense of the President's position, said: The bill goes upon the theory that there is but one government. Murder, robbery, and many other offenses which no one dreams of trying in any but State courts, are to be transferred to U. S. courts. My honorable friend asks whose fault it is that eleven States are not represented. They have abolished slavery. Some of them have even gone further than the honorable member himself, and though some of them have fought on the field of battle, they can take the oath as conscientiously as the honorable member or myself. Congressional legislation is necessary, it is said. Well, they applied here in December, and it is now April, and they may wait till June or December, as rumor indicates. I can go into the State of the honorable member himself and find hundreds of men just as disloyal as any in those States; that is, disloyal in the modern acceptation of the term. A short time ago it was disloyal to oppose the President, now it is disloyal to support him. It is only loyal to uphold Congressmen. The Supreme Court has recognized these States as being in the Union, and has for weeks been trying cases from them. It is apprehended that mischief will result if they are admitted here. Mischief of a kind of party character is the only mischief that I am aware of that it can result in. My friend adverts in rather severe terms to the President. The President stated that in his opinion the bill is unconstitutional, and thinking so, it was his duty to interpose his objections. If he had not done so he would have been false to his plighted faith.

After Johnson's speech, another attempt was made by Cowan of Pennsylvania, and others to fix five o'clock for the final vote, Cowan saying that Dixon and Wright might be brought in at such a time, but could not wait here for contingencies.

Trumbull of Illinois, said he was willing that the vote should be taken to-night or whenever the debate closed.

Conness of California, would not consent to any arrangement whereby Senators unfit to share in the work of deliberations of the Senate might be brought in to vote on a single question.

Wade of Ohio, spoke against the proposed arrangement, saying he would consent if it were any ordinary question but the President had set his will against the majority of both Houses, and he felt justified in using every possible means to thwart that will.

Cowan of Pennsylvania, then proceeded to speak on the legal points of the bill and the veto message, saying he had no other word for this bill than atrocity. It was no remedy for the African race; it could not effect the object its friends desired; it was unconstitutional; nothing that had been said in its favor or in support of the power of Congress to pass it was worthy of the attention of any sane man.

At half past four, it being evident that the debate was nearly through, and that the vote might be taken,

Henderson of Indiana stated they had a note from Senator Wright's attendant, saying he was asleep and could not be brought; therefore he asked for a postponement of the vote till some stated hour to-morrow.

Trumbull of Illinois, after consultation said, in deference to many appeals on the other side he was willing to agree to a postponement.

Wade of Ohio again declared he would not be a party to any agreement.

The debate on the bill was then resumed by Davis of Kentucky, Henderson of Indiana and McDougall of California speaking against the bill, and Stewart of Nevada in favor of it.

The Senate adjourned at 5:30 with the tacit understanding that the vote would be taken at four o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

In the House.

In the House yesterday one of the speakers called attention to the fact that the President's peace proclamation did not include Texas.

Stevens, of Pennsylvania, said he understood the proclamation to mean that the war had only ceased to the extent of ten-elevenths, and one-eleventh remained.

The war department publishes a long list of volunteer organizations, white and colored, to be mustered-out. It is believed that by the first of May the volunteers will be wholly discharged.

In the House yesterday Wilson, of Iowa, offered a resolution that the judiciary committee be instructed to inquire whether there is any probable cause to believe that Jeff Davis, C. C. Clay and others named in the proclamation of May 30, 1865, are guilty, as said proclamation alleged, of complicity in the assassination of President Lincoln, and whether further legislation is necessary to bring them to trial.

Ancona, of Pennsylvania, objected, and Wilson will bring forward the resolution again at the earliest opportunity.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Senate galleries were densely crowded, the floor was also filled with members of the House and others privileged to be admitted. Senator Wright, of New York appeared and took his seat. Lane, of Kansas, during the morning hour, offered a joint resolution providing for the admission of the States lately in rebellion, on condition of repudiating the rebel debt, endorsing the federal debt, annulling the ordinances of secession, and granting suffrage to such colored men as can read and own $250 worth of property. He spoke of the necessity of immediate action on the subject of reconstruction, in order to save the Republican party from crumbling to the earth.

At 10 o'clock the Civil Rights Bill was taken up. Lane, of Kansas, about whom doubts have existed, made a speech supporting the veto and defending the President from the charges made by Wade, of despotism and treachery. He concluded his speech as follows:

The President has been, and is, in my judgment, as anxious to harmonize the Union party as any Senator on this floor. If he was met in the same spirit, the party would be reunited and the Union would be restored. His advances are met by insult from the head of the Republican party on this Senate floor. In language with out a parallel. So far as I am concerned, Mr. President I hope to-day and hereafter, to take my position alongside of the President, and to stand there unflinchingly defending him against the Senator from Ohio, as I did his predecessor.

Wade said in reply: Who is your President, that every man must bow to his opinions? If you please, sir, we all know him. He is no stranger to this body. We have measured him, sir; we know his height, his length, his breadth and capacity, all about him, and you set him up as a paragon and declare you are going to wear his collar. Is that the idea that you are going to be his apologist and defender in whatever he may propose? Three millions of people, sir, are exposed to outrage and plunder from those worse than savages, their former masters murdered we are told, every day, their lives taken away, their humanity trampled under foot, and when Congress under the Constitution of the United States, is endeavoring to tender them some protection how are we met? Sir every attempt of your House has been to trample them down, make their condition worse and throw every obstruction in the way of everything proposed by Congress.

Lane in reply said, I wear no collar, indicted for treason by a pro-slavery grand jury, hunted from State to State by a writ founded on that indictment, a hundred thousand dollars for my head. Jim Lane wear a collar! Great God! Mr. President wherever he is known that charge is denied as false by both friend and enemy.

Wade, "I wish it was."

Lane appealed to Wade to withdraw the serious charges he had made against the President. He (Lane) would not defend the President's speech of the 22d of February as it was made under excitement. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, said he had striven to prevent a collision between Congress and the Executive, and was sorry to see such a dispensation among some of his friends toward the Executive, as though he was unworthy of their confidence. The bill contains a proposition upon which the ablest men in whom we had undoubted confidence, differ

The Canadians Again Excited

CHICAGO, April 6.—The Canadians are again in great alarm. They have received reports that war vessels and convoys, including two schooners laded with cannon are fitting out at Chicago. There are rumors that an expedition under B. Doran Killian, consisting of three thousand with 5,000 men, has sailed from New York for New Brunswick. Another report gives Bermuda as its destination. It is believed that Sweeny designs an attack on Central Canada.

An official proclamation from Col. O'Mahoney announces the escape of James Stephens from Ireland; his arrival at Paris, and his speedily arrival in the United States to head the insurrection and ultimately prevailing in the ranks of the brotherhood here.

Fire Among the Oil Wells.

There was a great fire among the Pennsylvania oil wells last Saturday. March first in Indiana mine Cognette well. It destroyed fully 25,000 barrels of oil in tanks and two barges loaded for shipment. Loss $125,000

Sayings of the Press.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Tribune ridicules the peace proclamation and says the only effect will be to cut down extra war rations and the allowance of officers amounting probably to $250 per day in New York alone.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican says: Of all the Republican papers in the country of all kinds or shades of opinion, only the New York Times fails to lament and to disapprove the President's veto of the civil rights bill, and although the peace proclamation passed the ... on the threshold, if the President does not bring in a mere proposition acceptable to Congress, guaranteeing civil rights the Republican party will remain victorious and the President will be left without a party except so far as Democrats sustain him for their own purposes.

Special Mail Agent.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A H Markland has been appointed Special Mail Agent for the Pacific coast.

The President wants the Test Oath Modified.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Times' Washington special dispatch says: The President will in a few days send a message to Congress asking a modification of the test oath in order to enable the Government to appoint Revenue officers in the South.

Jeff. Davis and His Friends.

The Times' Richmond correspondent says after consultation it has been agreed by the friends of Jeff. Davis who had proposed to sue a writ of habeas corpus in his behalf to abandon the movement because it might embarrass President Johnson. The Times, in a second editorial on the proclamation and its consequences says the issuing of the proclamation at this time is especially important in view of the brief pause in the Congressional struggle, and the anxiety with which the country watches its renewal in the Senate. The President has now cleared the ground as thoroughly as possible. There will be no foundation for pretense for talking of or dallying with the South as still in rebellion, for the President, in the exercise of his incontestible authority, has declared the rebellion ended. There can be no excuse for dictating terms to the South as conquered provinces, or imposing conditions on their people as subjugated rebels at the mercy of the conqueror, for the Executive has proclaimed the rights of the States of the South to be as valid as those of the States of the North. It deprives the agitators and mischief-makers of their only apology, and blunts the weapon with which they have hitherto fought. They must accept the fact promulgated by the President with all its logical consequences, or assume an attitude of resistance to authority reposed in him. In the one case their tactics must undergo a change which will hardly be for the worst. In the other way they will seal their own condemnation before the country, and convict themselves of desire to usurp power withheld from them by the Constitution. We shall be agreeably surprised if it be not made the occasion for a fresh outpouring of wrath upon the President.

Damages by the Late Flood.

Reports from Wisconsin estimate the damages by freshets at $2,000,000. Some important railroad bridges were carried away, and it will require several weeks to replace them. Travel is very much impeded.

WASHINGTON, April 6th.—Alex H Stephens had a long conference with the President yesterday.

New Party Movements.

CHICAGO, April 6.—A mass meeting was held last night front of the city hall, under the auspices of the new National Johnson Club. Speeches were made by U. S. Marshall Geo. Gov. Campbell of Tennessee, Senator Cowan and G. C. Smith. About 2,000 persons were present.

Reconstruction of the Supreme Court.

CHICAGO, April 6th.—An important bill is under consideration in the Senate, and is likely to pass. It relieves the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court from circuit duty and relieves the docket of the Supreme Court in the same manner, by establishing a Court of Appeals in each circuit composed of the district judges; which Court of Appeals shall have final jurisdiction over all cases except where the question involves the proper construction of the Constitution of the United States, any treaty, revenue or patent law, or where the Court shall certify that the adjudication involves a legal question of sufficient importance to require a final decision in the Supreme Court.

Caution of the President.

CHICAGO, April 6th.—The New York Herald calls attention to the cautious manner in which the President in his peace proclamation in reference to West Virginia, nowhere calling it a State, and asks: "Does the President doubt the constitutionality of the act creating the State of West Virginia? If he does, the whole matter will have to come before the Supreme Court.

Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, April 6.—A fire occurred to-day at the corner of Broadway and Barclay streets in the building known as Bixbita Hotel, and several buildings on Claremont and Fulton streets were destroyed.

Conflagration.

CHARLESTON, April 5.—An extensive conflagration this morning destroyed the block on King street, known as Polk's Exchange; loss $100,000; insurance, $75,000.

Foreign News.

PORTLAND, Maine, April 4.—The steamer Damascus arrived this evening, with dates to March 23d. In the House of Commons, on the 21st, the bill abolishing certain restrictions on dissenters at Oxford University was debated and carried to a second reading by a large majority. The Daily News regards this decision as the best illusion yet presented of the strength of parties in the new parliament. The chances of the reform bill continued to be canvassed by the journals, those opposed contending that Earl Grosvenor's amendment will seal the doom of the bill, while the other side anticipate little or no danger from it unless there is a severe defection from the Liberals. A London letter says Lord Grosvenor's amendment was drawn up by Disraeli. If this should obtain a majority, it will be followed immediately either by the resignation of the Government Minister or the dissolution of the House, but most probably by a dissolution. The statements in reference to Austria and Prussia are conflicting. The German firms in London have uniformly ridiculed the idea of hostilities, and the latest telegrams are of a reassuring character, but still the German press continue dealing in war-like rumors.

The recruiting of Austrian volunteers for Mexico was about to commence.

Napoleon received the address of the corps legislatif and made a speech accepting the vote of the great majority as a combined endorsement of his policy. He also spoke in favor of an extension of liberty, as calculated to strengthen the Government—not such liberty as may become an arm to undermine and subvert it.

LONDON, March 24.—Consols, 86¾. Five-twenties, 71½ and 71¾.

NEW YORK, March 5th.—The steamer Cuba from Liverpool 24th via Queenstown 25th has arrived. Fenian affairs had received some attention in parliament. The Attorney-General of Ireland said with respect to parties under arrest, who had come from America, he was ready to give favorable consideration to their application for discharge, provided they leave Ireland. Gladstone announced that the government intended to proceed with the reform bill, regardless of suggestions and amendments. They would resist Grosvenor's amendment as it implied a want of confidence in the government. The House adjourned to the 9th of April for the Easter holidays. The stock of the Anglo-American telegraph Company, £600,000 is all subscribed, and the books closed. The cable progresses at the rate of 10 nautical miles per day.

LIVERPOOL, March 25.—The ex-Queen of the French, widow of Louis Phillippe, died at Claremont yesterday.

Shanghae advices of the 21st represent that the Nienfi rebels are threatening the northern ports, where they had occasioned great alarm. Vigorous preparations had been made for resisting them. The French Consul at Shanghae had been imprisoned for refusing to give up certain documents.

DIDN'T RELISH THE JOKE.—On the day of the anniversary of the taking of Richmond a Democrat was boasting of the great men belonging to the Democratic party, saying: "Andrew Johnson is a Democrat, and so is General Grant." "Ah, yes! I see," said a Union man standing by. "A year ago to-day Gen Grant held a convention with some Democrats down at Richmond, and a few days after another with some more Democrats including General Lee." The Democrat "saw" too, and soon after was not to be seen himself.—Vancouver Register.

THE REASON WHY.—Mr Fay asked a Union man the evening of the democratic rally, "why his party were not endorsing Johnson?" The Unionist quietly answered, "Because he hung Mrs Suratt." The copperhead walked off with a large sized flea in his ear.—Sentinel.

MESSRS SMITH & DAVIS, of Portland, have always on hand a good supply of the Genuine Hall's Pulmonary Balsam. No family should be without a bottle of this valuable remedy in the house.

PHOTOGRAPHICAL.—ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL, Proprietors of the CARDWELL GALLERY, 89 First Street announce that they are fully prepared to meet the increasing demand for their First Class Pictures. Their CARTES DE VISITE are inimitable and beyond competition. ap9dtf

Multnomah Co. Bible Society.—The Annual Meeting of the Multnomah County Bible Society will be held in the Vestry of the Presbyterian Church on Monday evening, April 9th, at 7½ o'clock. The friends of the cause are respectfully invited to be present.

Oregon Wool.—The arrival of the balance of the [wool] ... for the Brownsville Woolen Mills, which was taken up the Willamette on Saturday last, suggests a few [thoughts] on an article under the heading of "Money ..." ... in the Agriculturist and Plowman on ... The writer takes very strange grounds to [prove] that the Woolen Factories of the State are a curse to the agricultural community. He says if the factory at Salem and "other factories were not here wool buyers would come from the States and pay a fair price, but as it is, they think they have no chance. We could bring ... per from New York than we could get it here, and the ... price of wool would make us better off than it is. We are making a few men in Oregon very rich, etc. Oregon is becoming the leading wool growing State of the Union. She has completely eclipsed California ... a grade of wool of such superior quality ... parties in the latter State to adopt unfair measures to keep up the standing of their assortment in ... markets. The clip of this year will be large [and] in excess of that of any previous year, on account of the importation of large flocks of sheep by Californians, who have left that State for this, where the climate is no[t] ... favorable, while the hills and valleys produce much better grazing for the flocks. That the quality and ... of our wool the present season will be better than heretofore, there is not a reasonable doubt, as [there] was never known to be more favorable and abundant feed. Now, if it were not for our local factories what ... do the farmers expect they would get for the clip? ... purchasers "from the States" step in and be ... to the wool grower than is the factory? ... must have wool. And when the eastern ... comes here now he will find a competition that is ... overcome by combination, and this fact alone ... the value of the factory to the farmer. We do ... to see an extension of this important branch of business in our State, and it should be a subject of great interest [to] every person in the country. The Raffle.—The Italian ship raffle, to have come off at the Florence Saloon on Saturday evening, was postponed until Saturday evening next April 14th.

Personal.—Our former neighbor of the Farmer office, Mr. F. M. Waite now of the Agriculturist and Plowman, Salem, bid us good-by last evening, and will leave this morning for his new "field," prepared to "sow" much better "crops" to be "reaped" by the readers of his valuable paper, than heretofore. The Agriculturist and Plowman has been a very successful investment so far, and with contemplated improvements will soon be an invaluable companion for all lovers of prosperity in the State of Oregon.

Ice.—W. G. Ballord of the Excelsior Soda Works, is not only prepared to furnish fine Ice and all who may wish for cooling beverages in summer, but will deliver to customers all the Ice they require throughout the season from his choice stock of about 250 tons put up last winter from Silver Lake. The prices will probably range from 2½ to 3 cents per pound. We make this statement for the benefit of all who wish to obtain the article. For further particulars see advertisement.

Saw Dust.—The curiosity of a number of gentlemen was excited yesterday while looking along the wharf to see on board of the steamer Cascade about fifty gunnies of saw dust. Some thought it was for a sharper of the country somewhere who intended to palm it off on stock for mill feed. Some thought it was intended for the Dalles hurdey gurdies—others that it might be for an ice house, but none obtained a satisfactory explanation.

From Astoria.—The steamer John H. Couch Capt. Snow, arrived on Saturday night from Astoria. No new arrivals were reported in the offing. The bark Live Yankee was yet near Baker's Bay waiting favorable time to go to sea. The Jane A. Falkinburg, Capt. Wass, was about ready to sail.

Millinery.—The attention of the ladies, who are about to assume a change of apparel for the spring and summer, is directed to the advertisement of Mrs. Loryea, which appears in another column.

Bark for Tanning.—The steamer John H. Couch on Saturday evening brought to this city a schooner from Clatsop, loaded with hemlock bark, for use in our tanneries.

The Sentinel says the prospects for a heavy yield of grain in Southern Oregon has not been so flattering for several years, as this season. Crops are so forward as to be out of danger of the usual heavy drouth.

The Sentinel says, Mr. Lucien Applegate, telegraph operator at the Toll House, had a narrow escape from drowning on Thursday last, while endeavoring to ford Cottonwood. His horse's feet were washed from under him, and he gained the opposite bank with much difficulty. The operator from this town, who was out on the same day, reports the very small streams greatly swollen and even Wagner Creek nearly impassable.

Jackson county has twenty-eight school districts, 1,157 scholars entitled to receive distributive shares of school funds, and $2,177 09 school money to distribute. The number of legal voters is 883.

The convention of miners in Southern Oregon, who held a meeting on the 17th ult., for the purpose of taking measures to protect themselves against the sale of mineral lands, agreed to the following:

We, whose names are hereunto annexed, do agree to form ourselves into a Mutual Protection Society, for the purpose of defraying any and all expenses in prosecuting to a successful issue any claims that may arise on the part of the miners of this county against persons who have entered or may hereafter enter, mineral lands of this county in the Land Office, at Roseburg. And we further agree to pay the sum of one dollar to the Treasurer of the Association, or to any other person or persons authorized to receive the same, immediately, and such further sums as may be voted necessary by the Association, or a majority thereof, from time to time.

Montana News.

The following Montana news we find in the Idaho World of the 24th ult:

SAVAGE WINTER.

A letter from Gal... county says: The weather is very cold and has been ... so almost all the season. Many persons have been frozen to death and hundreds have been so badly frost-bitten as to lose their feet. Among the many unfortunates is one of my old schoolmates, John Clayton. With hundreds of others he started out on the stampede to Sun river, and had his feet so badly frozen that Dr. Maupin had to amputate both of them. Dr. M. is a brother of John Maupin, of your city, and is a splendid physician and surgeon, and I agree with others in saying that he is a perfect gentleman.

A POOR OPINION OF BLACKFOOT.

I saw our old friend Frank Tudor, a short time since. He is the same, to all appearances, and thinks he has a big thing (in the ground at yet) in the way of diggings, somewhere in the Blackfoot country. As for Blackfoot, I cannot write anything calculated to excite you—on the contrary will say that on the mature deliberation of many, it will be a lively camp next season, for the reason that it will be a kind of central point for the convenience of ... , and not for the ... that anything has yet been struck calculated to make it a camp of any consequence. To tell you the truth, I look on Helena as being as near played out as Virginia City will be two years hence, and such is the opinion of others. I met Mr. Adams, of the firm of Ingersoll & Adams. He has quite an extensive stock of staples, which he brought from Walla Walla. I think from his expressed dissatisfaction, that he will leave Helena, with its mighty reputation, in disgust. I am told he intends establishing a house at Deer Lodge. There has not been a single discovery made this ... of the least consequence, and as there will be a large emigration coming from the States this season, I do not know what will be the result. Of all the poor, broken down, hungry looking set of men in the world, I think the streets of Helena can show the largest "selection," and they are still increasing!

ANOTHER AND A BETTER OPINION.

Mr. Robert Bailey, writing from Helena, M. T., says there was a grand Masonic Ball and Festival there on the 22d of February. Seventy-two ladies were present and 110 tickets were sold. The ladies, according to Bob., were "altogether lovely." In regard to mining, times, he says were becoming more lively. There is an excitement concerning the Elk Creek country, situated about 60 miles from Cottonwood City, Deer Lodge county, between Hellgate and Cottonwood rivers, and about 100 miles west from Helena. The creek is reported to be about fourteen miles long and rich the whole distance, and a great many gulches putting into it prospect well. There will not be much mining done about Helena before the 1st of April. The ... is about one foot deep in that town. The Yellowstone river country will be prospected thoroughly this Spring—also the Big Horn country. Into both of these a great crowd is preparing to go. The Indians have been bad on the Yellowstone but will be driven out. Emigrant Gulch, on that river, has been worked some during the past year, and turned out well, but the whites were compelled to leave.

Idaho News.

We clip the following from the World of the 24th ult.:

THE POORMAN CONTROVERSY.

Letters received here by Mr. Murphy from New York, say the parties claiming the famous Poorman, on Hays & Ray's claim at Owyhee, can't come to any understanding about the claim, and intend to fight it out to the death.

BUSINESS EXTREMELY DULL.

The only feature worthy of notice in the state of the market, for a period of three months past, has been its extreme torpidity. On all sides the remark is made that trade has been "flat, stale and unprofitable;" and more remarkably so, when compared with that of last winter. With but few exceptions, prices of all kinds of merchandise have varied and advanced but little since October last.

NEWS ITEMS FROM ALTURAS.

A friend from Rocky Bar furnishes us with some information relative to affairs in the "Mountain" county, among which are the following:

"There is quite an emigration to Blackfoot and laboring men are somewhat scarce—hardly enough to do the work necessary. Idaho and Red Warrior mills are running regularly, but several others not so much so. Several thunder storms have visited the country, and the snow was rapidly disappearing—one of the effects of the warm weather. Good times were sanguinely anticipated in the spring, but money is "tight" now. The residents are satisfied they have one of the richest quartz countries ever discovered.

The resignation of S. W. Gray, County Treasurer, was received, and a new Treasurer appointed by the Commissioners Hon. S. B. Dilley, late Councilman, received the appointment and immediately filed his bonds in the sum of $8000. In conjunction with Comptroller Lande and Treasurer Sterling, Mr. Dilley has been actively engaged in settling up the affairs of that County with the Territory. Mr. Gray has paid over nearly all of the amount due the Territory, and that little difficulty will be settled without any more trouble—and no one the loser. The activity and good management of the new County Treasurer in following up the matter, entitles him to much credit.

The wife of Dr. S. B. Farnham has been very dangerously ill with neuralgia of the heart, but is now considered by her physicians, out of danger. She is an estimable and accomplished lady and universally esteemed by her acquaintances. Dr. Farnham is now in New York, on business connected with the N. Y. & Idaho G. & S. Mining Company, whose Superintendent he has been. The Doctor is an energetic, persevering man, and has labored very hard for the interests of the Company. Our friend thinks he has not been treated in some things by the Company as he should have been, in some matters growing out of difficulties between him and the Secretary of the Company, W. H. Tripp.

OBITUARY.

Departed this life at McMinnville, Oregon, at 7 o'clock A. M. 30th March, 1866, Mrs Narcissa J. Berry, consort of Mr. J. H. Berry of that place, aged forty-three years, eleven months and nine days.

Deceased was born on the 21st of May 1822, in the State of Tennessee, and emigrated to this country in 1850. She had been for many years a faithful member of the Christian Church, as she was also an exemplary member of society in all the relations of life. She suffered severely with protracted illness, and bore it with firmness and resolution, meeting the great and inevitable change with the calmness and true courage which distinguishes those who, having made their peace with God fear no evil.

She leaves a husband and seven children and a large circle of sympathizing friends to mourn her loss.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and must supercede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.
They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of impostors. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in Bulk, is an impostor. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Letter from Oregon City.

EDITOR OREGONIAN

OREGON CITY April 6 1866

As the Herald starts out in a rather high toned sort of way and in a few lines of editorial, under the head "'All the Decency Party,'" seems to be intensely shocked at what it calls blasphemy on the part of W C Whitson, in quoting an expression which though irreverent in tone is yet common enough to be a proverb let me call attention to the fact that Col J K Kelly of Dalles—reckoned a bright light of Democracy I believe—in a speech before the Copperhead Convention in Clackamas county clenched his periods with a breadth and volubility of profanity which no doubt would have shocked even "our army in Flanders," or "any other man" but the crowd that listened Not simple irreverence, but vulgar outrageous oaths, that might well shame a gentleman anywhere If the Herald chooses to read the Colonel a lesson, it will not be a loss for the cause of morality

The Colonel took strong Southern ground in favor of paying for the slaves made free in the South by the effect of the Constitutional Amendment, and emphasizing it with a bitter oath, swore he would never vote one single dollar to pay the interest on our public debt as long as United States bonds are not made taxable Compare that sentiment with the Herald's attempt to shirk, in this morning's paper a consistent Democratic doctrine

Big Bend News

We clip the following from the Victoria Chronicle of April 5th

From Mr J Harper, who left Kamloops Lake on the 28th of March, (eight days ago) we have late intelligence from that section of the country The Shuswap river was free of ice. The Lake was still frozen, but the ice had commenced to break up and the water was rising. There was no snow at Kamloops, and the weather was mild, the sun shining brightly There was a scarcity of goods at Kamloops About fifty men passed the fort in one day bound for Big Bend At one time in the season there were sixty men at the town of Seymour but they had all left for Columbia river A great deal of snow was reported on the divide The timber for the Hudson Bay Company's steam boat was all out, and the builder was only required to put her together. Mr McKay expected to leave for the lower country in a few days. A large number of freight boats have been built on the lakes. About 1300 head of cattle wintered in the vicinity of Kamloops Lake, and the loss was inconsiderable The stock is now in prime order, and the new grass has commenced to spring up Mr. Wright has about completed his wagon road He had built bridges across the Bonaparte river and Deadmans' Creek, and had about two hundred men employed on the whole line of the road The latest news brought across the divide was to the effect that a large number of men were on the way from Oregon. No mining was going on The snow was nearly all off the road between Yale and Lytton. The packers and drovers are asking the Government to cut a trail for stock around the lakes to Seymour, a want which will soon be felt. It is hoped that the expenditure of a few thousand dollars will not be grudged.

TOO EARLY TO START.—A letter from Captain Fary, dated Lytton City, March 22d, to friends in this city, says it is altogether too early for miners to proceed to the Big Bend mines. The roads are in a bad condition at present, provisions are very scarce, and there is no prospect for transporting any for some time to come yet.

Washington Territory Items

The Vancouver Register contains the following items:

A FIRE —The barn of Mr. Ervine Burke, of the upper end of Mill Plain, in this county, was destroyed by fire on Wednesday night last. His horses, harnesses, feed, together with a hundred and fifty bushels of oats, were consumed. The fire is supposed to have been caused by two boys playing with matches in the barn the afternoon preceding.

MILITARY.—Capt. James H [illegible] has been ordered to join Company "D," to the captaincy of which he has lately been promoted, at Cape Disappointment.

INFORMATION WANTED.—By a letter from his father, we are requested to make inquiry as to the whereabouts of Wm. Francis Slocum. He was a member of Capt. Borland's Company, 1st Oregon Infantry. Any person knowing anything of Mr Slocum will do a favor by addressing Wm Slocum, Roseburg, Oregon, or by leaving information at this office.

AMPUTATION.—On Thursday last Dr. Wagner, of the United States Army, amputated the right leg of Mr. Mender, of this city, just below the knee. Mr. M. has [illegible] greatly [illegible] several months past with a [illegible] every effort [illegible] to save the [illegible] became apparent to him and all [illegible] that nothing could save his life but [illegible] Accordingly Dr. Wagner performed the [illegible] very skillfully as [illegible] We were [illegible] and witnessed the operation, and also the [illegible] of the foot and ankle [illegible] the ankle joint was found entirely decayed, the affection extending upwards nearly half way to the knee. Mr. M. is now doing well.

The Snoqualmie [illegible] from [illegible] has been surveyed and the route is [illegible] to be a good one. This proposed road will cross the Cascade range, and is designed to afford the shortest communication between Puget Sound and the mining regions east.

The first number of the Puget Sound Semi Weekly was issued April 5th. It is a small, neat paper, Union in politics, but professedly very independent in everything.

Cariboo News.

The Colonist of March 30th has the following from the Cariboo mines

ARRIVAL OF TREASURE.

The steamers Lillooet and Onward arrived from Yale on Monday, the latter bringing a Cariboo Express with dates to the 16th instant, and Mr Ormanby, messenger of the Bank of British Columbia, with $75,000 of treasure belonging to that institution. The news from the diggings is not of a startling character, although highly encouraging. The weather was favorable and work had been resumed in many claims. Several claims had been worked above Richfield during the winter, most of them paying $10 a day to the hand.

CONKLIN'S GULCH MINES

The Tunnels in Conklin's Gulch have been run into the hill a considerable distance, and in some of them good pay has been struck in the gravel In the Australian Claim, opposite this gulch, two days' work produced 102 ounces. They washed the week before the express left 300 ounces In the Cameron Claim they were working with rockers, and making $10 a day to the hand, some of them as much as $15, exclusive of twenty-five per cent paid into the treasury of the company.

CHANCE FOR EMPLOYMENT.—The market prices had undergone little change. It is estimated that steady employment will be found on Williams Creek, this season, for from 800 to 1000 more men than are there at present, and it appears to be the prevailing opinion that these mines will yield much more gold this year than they did last.

It is understood that the Bank of British North America has about $70,000 in treasure in its vaults on Williams Creek.

News from Lillooet

The following is from the Colonist of the 30th ultimo:

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Dr. Featherstone arrived from Lillooet on Monday, having left that town on the 22d. The Dr. is the bearer of the unwelcome intelligence that a fire broke out in Lillooet, consuming a number of buildings

THE BRIDGE RIVER MINES.

The Hon Mr Elliott has received a letter from Church & Co., of Gun Creek, in the new Bridge River Mining District, being about sixty miles from Lillooet. In this letter it is stated that they have prospected a good deal during the winter, and had found a large breadth of ground which will pay from $12 to $15 a day to the hand with sluices, or $5 to $6 with rockers, and that the ground pays from the surface

Every one at Lillooet appears to be confident that as to the breadth of ground and certainty of yield from the first spadeful of dirt to the bed rock, these mines will rank second to none in British Columbia

There are 100 Chinamen at work on Bridge river, 15 miles from Lillooet constructing a wing dam Several companies of white men are also at work near the same place.

Travelling between Lillooet and this city is now excellent Mr Dewdney was met at Seaton lake on his way to Lillooet to survey the new trail to the Bridge river mines

During the war nine rebel generals belonging to Tennessee were killed—Zollicoffer, Robert Hatton, James Rains, Stearns, Prescott Smith, Strahl, Carter, John Adams and R C Tyler the latter the last general officer killed on either side

Trumbull's Review of the Veto

Rarely has a more dignified, cogent, conclusive argument been addressed to either House of Congress than Trumbull's review of the President's message vetoing the Freedmen's Bureau bill Col Forney's Chronicle gives the following summary of its propositions

1 That the bill itself was inspired by the annual message of the President of the United States, delivered to Congress at the commencement of the present session That message, it will be remembered, expressed a desire upon the part of the President to secure all men in their rights and to protect the freedmen in all the privileges guaranteed to them under the Emancipation Proclamation and, in the judgment of Trumbull and thirty six Senators who voted with him for it on the 2th of January, the provisions of this bill were eminently calculated to accomplish these objects

2 That it was not as the President avers an original measure, but simply an amendment to the bill under which the Freedmen's Bureau is now acting, and which had the sanction of the Executive himself as well as the approval of a great majority of the loyal people of the country As an amendment, it removes many of the objectionable features of the Bureau as now organized, simplifying its ramifications and making it more efficient

3 That it was not intended as a permanant part of the administrative policy of the Government—one of its sections expressly stating on the contrary, that it shall remain in force "until otherwise provided by law," just as all other laws of Congress are supposed to do The wonder is that the President ever thought of making such an objection to it as this No such idea ever entered the mind of any person who supported and voted for it

4. That, instead of being an extravagant and unnecessary expense to the Government, it has indirectly saved us millions of dollars which would otherwise have been wasted.

5 That the Bureau did not contemplate feeding clothing and educating the refugees and freedmen, but was rather intended to assist them in doing all these things for themselves

6 That, instead of it being designated exclusively for negroes, more whites have in some sections and many instances, been benefitted by it than blacks, and that the proportion of whites still needing its assistance is equal to that of the negroes

7. That there was an immediate necessity for the passage of the bill, because the original act creating the Bureau expires by limitation in the month of May, 1866.

8. That, instead of establishing military jurisdiction over all parts of the United States containing refugees and freedmen, it simply extends it over the officers and employees of the Bureau And that, in accordance with the recommendation of General Grant, in his report to the President of his tour through the South, transmitted to the Senate with a message a few weeks ago, it makes the Bureau a part of the War Department of the Government

9. That the bill did not contemplate the appointment of agents and other officers in every county or parish, except the President should, in his judgment, deem such appointments necessary

10 That what the President terms the unconstitutional features of the bill, conferring arbitrary powers upon the officers of the Bureau, go no further than the President himself and the officers of the army acting under him have already gone, and that it is competent for Congress to provide all rules and regulations for the government of the army and navy, to which all are subject, from Commander in-Chief to the humblest soldier or sailor.

11. That, if the rebellion is in all respects at an end, the President is still exercising the war power, such as the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, contrary to the Constitution, which expressly states that this shall only be suspended in time of invasion or rebellion, and as we have no invasion, and the writ is not in operation in a portion of the States, we must have a rebellion

12. That, according to the census of 1860, there were not four millions of slaves in the United States, and that instead of this being a measure to feed, clothe and educate four millions of freedmen, the report of General Howard shows that at no time was there more than one hundred and forty-seven thousand persons under the care of the Bureau, fifty seven thousand of whom were white refugees.

13 That, according to the sworn statement of General Fisk before the Committee on Reconstruction, of the twenty five thousand persons fed by the Bureau in Tennessee, seventeen thousand were white refugees.

14. That, instead of the freedman receiving protection from the civil Courts of the Southern States, and being secured by them in his rights, those States have, almost without exception, enacted through their Legislatures laws with reference to the freedmen as infamous and oppressive as the black code of slavery.

15. That if the President's views regarding the representation of the late rebel States in Congress is correct, then all the legislation of the past five years is null and void.

Such were the main points in Senator Trumbull's speech, set forth with unusual power and eloquence.

HON. WILSON BOWLBY.—The Statesman publishes an article on the late Union State Convention from which we extract the following relative to Dr. Bowlby. We have known Dr. Bowlby personally and intimately for years, and are therefore prepared to heartily endorse what the Statesman says of him:

We labored for Dr. Bowlby's nomination, as the first consideration of the Convention, after the adoption of a platform of sound, vital principles. We have seen the man thoroughly tried, and tempted by all the inside workings of a political convention, and we must say that we have never found a purer, more upright, and thoroughly honorable and noble man, in all our experience. He is above all price. Under a plain and unpretending exterior is concealed the jewel of incorruptibility. He is a man that those who know him will fight for against any and all odds. When the Union party of Oregon learn to confide their leadership to such men as Wilson Bowlby of Washington county, they will have learned to honor and respect the noble principles which made the party strong, triumphant, and honorable

LATER NEWS FROM ARIZONA.—We take the following from a letter of William Thompson, Superintendent of the Great Central Mine, Arizona, to the Secretary of the Company, under date of La Paz, Arizona, March 16th:

The Indians at Big Bug set fire to a miner's cabin a few nights since, in which two miners were sleeping. One of the miners was badly shot with arrows as he ran out, and cannot recover, the other escaped unharmed. Three soldiers, deserters from the Native Arizona Cavalry, visited a place about eighty miles from here, on the road to Prescott, where two men were digging a well, and had what they wanted to eat and drink. After one of the men went down the well, they shot the other and he fell into the well dead, his body going to the bottom—eighty feet. They then took what they wanted and left. The mail carrier, Mr Duff, found the other man in the well alive and took him out One of the murderers came into La Paz last night, and we have got him chained to a blacksmith's anvil, having no jail to confine him in As the mail closes immediately, I cannot tell you what disposition will be made of him —Alta California, March 31

STRANGE BRIDAL STORY —A strange story is told of two sisters at Berlin. About three years ago one of these young ladies was engaged to be married, but on the bridal morning became so ill that she could not possibly go to the church The bridegroom was a desirable one, and he was a fish who, it seems, had not easily been hooked There was, therefore, great danger in delay, so instead of postponing the marriage, the second sister covering herself in a long veil personated the first, and duly went through the ceremony The moment it was over, she transferred the bridal dress and ornaments to her sister who was thus considered to have all proper claim to this husband she had married by proxy It is only recently that a discovery has been made of the real facts, and proceedings are about to be taken not only in the civil, but also in the criminal courts of Berlin

LOST HIS WAGER —The Vancouver Register goes after our neighbor of the Herald as follows. The conceit of "buttermilk" brains is not bad:

A certain Portland editor "went his pile"—"a gill of buttermilk,"—the other day that a cotemporary would not correct a mistake relative to certain "resolutions" The cotemporary did make the correction, and won the wager, but as it was evident that said editor had foolishly wagered his whole stock of editorial capital, unanimously declined to accept the forfeit

SELF RELIANCE.—"I have great confidence," says a writer, "in young men who believe in themselves and are accustomed to rely on their own resources from an early period When a resolute young fellow steps up to the great bully, the world, and takes him boldly by the beard, he is often surprised to find it come off in his hand, and that it was only tied on to scare away timid adventurers

THE ENTENTE CORDIALE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND AMERICA —The Moscow Gazette gives a description of a banquet by the merchants of that city to the American Legation, in honor of the arrival of Gen Clay Envoy Extraordinary, and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America Mr. Katkoff's organ speaks with great enthusiasm of the toasts drunk to the Emperor Alexander to the President of the United States and to the continuance of good feeling between Russia and the American Republic

It is difficult it adds to express the emotion produced by the speeches that accompanied these toasts which imparted so great significance to the entertainment, and which will find an echo in the heart of every Russian and American patriot

We should not have alluded to this banquet had it been simply one of those convivial gatherings for the exchange of compliments entre nous The reader knows what usually remains in such cases of all froth of international enthusiasm after the froth of the champagne has disappeared, but this is quite another affair, and the other comments of the Moscow Gazette are not without importance That journal, with a very natural satisfaction shows the conditions of the entente cordiale existing between the United States and the Russian empire The geographical situation of the two countries seems to prohibit the possibility of one of conflicts of interest which sometimes arise from a too close proximity of two nations In this respect the past is a guarantee for the future and of alliances that between these two nations seems to be the most natural After treating on generalities the Moscow Gazette considers the question more in detail, adding upon the subject of recent events:—

While the United States were being ravaged by civil war many on this side of the ocean were convinced of the destruction of that young Power Bold calculations were made, and changes were projected and even executed or attempted in the vicinity of the United States But, on the other hand, what confusion the triumph of the United States caused in these same circles, destroying at a blow all the political calculations combined in view of the expected great American disasters

Russia alone never once swerved either in her friendship for the United States, or in the conviction that their cause would triumph From Russia alone did they receive "one sincere word of sympathy and encouragement" according to the expression of an American, (Mr Curtin) We know how this friendship on the part of Russia has been appreciated, and what reception our sailors met with upon arriving in the United States at a period when Russia herself was the object of hostile projects, and when her enemies hoped to succeed with ease by means of menaces and aided by internal treachery

GAMMON —The late Dr. Wilson, Senior Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin though a very grave man himself, was fond of quizzing the country folks who came to inquire after their relatives and friends in the college One day seeing a man in the court with a letter in his hand, gaping and staring about, and not knowing where to go, he walked up to him gravely, and inquired what he wanted. The man answered, "Can you tell me where to find Mr. Delahunt?" "Yes," replied the Doctor, "do you see that building before you?" "Yes, sir." "Then crucify that quadrangle, take the diameter of the plot beyond it, enter the opening before you, ascend the ligneous grade, then turn to your left, and you will find him either peripatounding in his cuticle, dormitating in his lectum, or periscopounding through his fenestra." "And pray, sir, what is a fenestra?" To which the Doctor replied, "It is an orifice in an edifice to admit luminous particles." "Oh, thank you?" said the poor fellow; and he walked off, more perplexed than before.

DEPTH OF QUIET PEOPLE.—Some men dawn upon you like the Alps. They impress you vaguely at first, just as do the hundred faces you meet in your daily walks. They come across your horizon like floating clouds, and you have to watch awhile before you see they are mountains. Some men remind you of quiet lakes, places such as you have often napped upon, where the green turf and the field flower hang over you and are reflected out of the water all day long. Some day or other you carelessly drop a line into the clear depths, close to the daisies and daffodils and it goes down, down, down. You lean, over, the sound is deeper, but your line doesn't bring up. What a deep spot that is! you think, and you try another. The reflected daisies seem to smile at you out of the water, the turf looks as green as ever, but there is no shallow spot beneath. You never thought it, but your quiet lake is all around unfathomable. You are none the less impressed with the fact that it is a quiet lake.

UNION GAINS —The State Journal of the 31st ult has the following:

Like their "Southern brethren" the Copperheads are notorious boasters. They are always positive just before an election that they are cutting a great figure. They have been going to carry every election in this State for the past four years, but some how or other their calculations have failed. As usual they are beginning to make a great noise about "Democratic gains" In order to ascertain what foundation there is for this clamor, some of the Union men of Richardson precinct—the head-quarters of the "time-honored principles of Democracy" in this county—have taken the pains to estimate precisely how the vote of that precinct stands After a strict calculation they find that there are now 20 Union votes in that precinct, a gain of 14 since last election, while the Copperhead strength has not increased any.

A VETERAN'S OPINION.—During the gun-firing in the Park on Wednesday, by order of the Board of Aldermen, a one-legged soldier, standing by, was asked by a citizen what it was all for. "It's a celebration," replied the veteran, "of the first Copperhead victory since the battle of Bull Run!"

The wife of "Grandpa Davis," at Knoxville, Tenn., has given birth to twenty-nine children, twenty-eight of whom are living, and twenty-five of them served in the Union army during the late rebellion. Mr Davis is upward of ninety years of age, but hale and hearty.

One of the annoyed remarks: "I have often observed at public entertainments that when there is anything to be seen, nearly everybody wants particularly to see it, everybody immediately stands up and effectually prevents anybody from seeing anything

Medical.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE BLADDER, KIDNEYS, Gravel, Dropsical Swellings, GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above-mentioned and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY, LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY, PHYSICAL PROSTRATION, INDIGESTION, SEMINAL WEAKNESS, GLEET FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect he moves with a firm step; his mind which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor—The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER, INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND CATARRH OF THE BLADDER, STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL URINATING, CALCULUS, GRAVEL, BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to WATER WHEELS. POWER PLEDGED EQUAL TO THE Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.

Prices Greatly Reduced! Prices Greatly Reduced!

American Double Turbine Water Wheel

IS NOW MANUFACTURED BY THE OREGON IRON Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes, from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way; Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction. Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 30 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS, Oregon Iron Works, Portland, Oregon. mar30m-4p
